

Canada PR Visa For Teachers 2021-2022

Teachers are one of the most important and respected professions in the world. The need for talented and inspirational educators are in high demand across the globe, Canada included.

Canada is known to be one of the most educated countries in the world, with over 56% of its adults possessing a post-secondary qualification, according to the (OECD). This is owed predominantly to its outstanding education system, which is provided without charge to all Canadians, including permanent residents.

If you have been considering immigrating to Canada as a teacher, now is the opportune moment to seize the day and start living the rest of your life in one of the most diverse, multicultural, and liberal countries in the world.

Teachers are not only in the top 10 most in-demand jobs in Canada and are included on 8 of Canada's 11 Provincial Nominee Program Occupation in-demand lists for 2020. According to Job Bank Canada, secondary school teachers can look forward to 53,700 new job positions between 2019 and 2028, which means that Canada's education sector will be in demand for a substantial number of years. Pair that with great benefits and a chance to earn up to $96,000 per year, you will be able to provide a brighter future not only for the young minds that you will be molding but also for your loved ones.

To speak to one of our consultants and have your eligibility assessment done by a verified service, simply click the link below or continue reading to find out which options are best for teachers who want to immigrate to Canada in 2021-2022.

IS INDIAN OR PAKISTANI B.ED VALID IN CANADA?

A Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) is an alumni proficient degree which plans understudies for work as an instructor in schools.

A B.Ed. program may have direct section from secondary school; as a consolidated degree with another four year college education (e.g., B.A./B.Ed.); or as an after-degree program where the competitor has acquired a four year certification, generally in the field in which the student wishes to instruct.

Now let us talk about teachers with B.ED who wishes to come to Canada. To know if your particular B.ED degree from a particular university is accepted or not, you need to take an ECA (Educational Credential Assessment) from a authorised body.

| NOC CODE | JOB TITLE  | SKILL LEVEL |
|----------|--|-------------|
| 4011     | University professors and lecturers  | A           |
| 4021     | College and other vocational instructors                                   | A           |
| 4031     | Secondary school teacher   | A           |
| 4032     | Elementary school and kindergarten teachers                                | A           |
| 4214     | Early childhood educators  | B           |
| 4413     | Elementary and Secondary school assistants                                 | C           |
| 5254     | Program leaders and instructors in recreation, sport, and fitness          | B           |
| 422      | School principals and administrators of elementary and secondary education | O           |

Provinces and Territories Hiring International Teachers

The Provincial Nominee Program allows you to live and work in Canada if you have a valid job offer in Canada that meets the labour demands of that particular province or territory. Each province/territory has its own PNP with specific in-demand occupations and if you receive a provincial nomination, which is worth 600 extra points you are basically guaranteed to receive an ITA for Canadian permanent residence. As mentioned previously, almost every PNP has a stream linked to the Express Entry system, which will speed up your application process from approximately 18 months if you apply directly to the province to 6 months when you apply through Express Entry. Below is a list of PNP streams or categories, in each province or territory, for medical professionals who want to immigrate to Canada.

| Canadian Immigration for Teachers |  |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| Province/Territory                | Immigration Stream/Category                          |
| Alberta                           | Alberta Express Entry Stream                         |
| British Columbia                  | Express Entry: Skilled Worker Category               |
| Newfoundland and Labrador         | Express Entry: Skilled Worker Stream                 |
| Northwest Territories             | Express Entry: Skilled Worker Stream                 |
| Nova Scotia                       | Nova Scotia Demand: Express Entry Stream             |
| Prince Edward Island              | Express Entry Stream                                 |
| Saskatchewan                      | Express Entry: International Skilled Worker Category |
| Yukon                             | Express Entry: Skilled Worker Stream                 |

Jobs: How Much Do Teachers Make in Canada?

Teaching is a noble profession, no matter which level or age your students are. Whether you're an early childhood educator, an elementary or high school teacher or a university or college professor, your role is fundamental in the lives of millions of people and there a plenty of lucrative job opportunities for you in Canada. Education is deeply rooted in Canada's value system, which is why such a high level of public education is afforded to all citizens and permanent residents and their family members for free. And for this, Canada rewards its educators with competitive salaries and great benefits.

According to Business Insider, Canada was ranked as one of the top 10 countries worldwide list of best paid elementary teaching jobs in 2019. Below are some of the average salaries (according to Payscale) for teachers that are currently in demand across the country.

It is important to note that salaries vary depending on education level and work experience from province to territory.

| Average Annual Salaries for High School Teachers in Canada |                      |
|--|----------------------|
| Province/Territory   | Average Salary (CAD) |
| National Average   | $68,894             |
| Alberta  | $70,098             |
| British Columbia   | $53,031             |
| New Brunswick  | $66,250             |
| Newfoundland & Labrador                                    | $58,500             |
| Northwest Territories                                      | $82,000             |
| Nova Scotia  | $57,675             |
| Ontario  | $87,000             |
| Prince Edward Island                                       | $63,512             |
| Quebec   | $49,579             |
| Saskatchewan   | $62,400             |

What Benefits Do Teachers Get in Canada?

When you immigrate to Canada as a teacher, you will not only have access to the fantastic universal healthcare system, which won't cost you a dollar, but also various employment benefits which you may not have access to in your own country. This includes a number of Employment Insurance (EI) benefits such as:

| Work Benefits for Teachers in Canada |  |
|--------------------------------------|--|
| Benefit                              | Description  |
| Paid maternity and parental benefits | Maternity benefits (up to 55% of your earnings for up to 15 weeks) + standard or extended parental benefits <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· standard - up to 55% of your earnings for up to 40 weeks (1 parent can't take more than 35 weeks)</li> <li>· or extended - up to 33% of your earnings for up to 69 weeks (1 parent can't take more than 61 weeks)</li> </ul> |
| Sickness benefits                    | Up to 55% of your earnings for up to 15 weeks if you can't find work because of medical reasons  |
| Caregiver Benefits                   | Family caregiver benefit for children - up to 35 weeks payable (a critically ill or injured person under 18) Family caregiver benefits for adults - up to 15 weeks (a critically ill or injured person 18 or older) Compassionate care benefits - up to 26 weeks (a person of any age who needs end-of-life-care)   |

It is important to note that these benefits may vary from province to province, whether you are employed on a full or part-time basis as well as years of work experience.